LEISURE HOURS OF OUR FIGHTING SAILORS

Work and Play Are So Intermingled That Our Bluejackets
Cannot Grow Dull

Noon hour aboard a dreadnought. A boxing match with music by the ship's band. These attractions are sure to draw a crowd.

Plenty of time to swap yarns, keep up with the news or to loll about carefree, just as the spirit moves.

Recruits in their off hours ponder upon the splendid service of which they are a part.
